Art Unit: 3611

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 5-7 and 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ordelman et al. (USPN 5,501,480) in view of Jerenson (USPN 5,431,614).

Ordelman shows a supplemental driving system with a lever (crank to which handles 11, 27 are mounted) that applies manual pushing and pulling force to drive a wheel 3 mounted forward of the front wheels of a wheelchair. The handle of Figure 5 includes a semi-circular handle with a number of possible gripping areas 45, 47.

Ordelman lacks a lever that reciprocates to drive the wheel in one direction in response to lever movement in both forward and rearward directions.

Jeranson shows a steerable drive wheel with a lever connected to a driving mechanism 22 to drive a wheel 34 in one direction in response to movement of the handle in both directions.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the Ordeman vehicle with a reciprocating drive mechanism, as taught by Jeranson, in order to provide reciprocating manual drive for the vehicle.

3. Claims 8 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ordelman and Jerenson as applied to claims 5-7 and 9-11 above, and further in view of Beddome et al. (USPN 5,242,179).

Art Unit: 3611

The combination fails to show the drive mechanism carrier pivotable so that the drive mechanism can be stowed under the seat.

Beddone shows an exercise device with a carrier 150 pivotally mounted to wheelchair such that the device may be rotated to a stowed position below the seat.

It would have been obvious to pivotally connect a portion of the carrier of the combination, as taught by Beddone, in order to facilitate storage of the device below the seat.

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 5-12 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Wimmer shows a wheelchair with a driving attachment having hand levers that operate to drive the wheelchair.

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Anne Marie M. Boehler whose telephone number is 571-272-6641. The examiner can normally be reached on 7:30-5:00, Monday-Thursday, and alternate Fridays.
